The College of Natural Sciences Newsletter is designed to serve CNS students. It is delivered online every Sunday.

Dean Kopp’s weekly email includes a link to access the newsletter, as well.

Items in BLUE are new;
Items in RED are last chance.

If you would like to submit news to CNS Newsletter, send the information to cnsnewsletter@austin.utexas.edu. Include a contact person phone number and email, date or deadline, write in complete sentences, text must be fewer than 150 words. Submit by 11:59pm Friday to be included in that week’s newsletter.

3. EVS Transfer Information
   - Applications are due March 7th

   The Environmental Science (EVS) degree program at The University of Texas at Austin brings together Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science degrees from the College of Natural Sciences, the College of Liberal Arts, and the Jackson School of Geosciences. EVS is small, restricted, and very competitive, and focuses on science, including calculus, chemistry, biology, geology, and physics.

   EVS accepts internal transfer applications (from students currently enrolled at UT) each spring for program entry the following fall. About 10-15% of the EVS cohort comes from internal transfers. That means about 5-7 The applicant’s grades in basic science course sequence of Calculus (M 408K, M 408N, or M 408C), Chemistry (CH 301) and Biology (BIO 311C); The applicant’s overall grade point average at the university and any applicable transfer hours; students per year. EVS typically receives 40-50 applications for those spots.

   • Applications are available on the EVS Program website at www.esi.utexas.edu/EVS. No late applications will be accepted. The difficulty of the applicant’s course load, any course repetitions, and proven mathematical ability; The applicant’s interest in environmental science and in the EVS Program; and the applicant’s previous lab or field experience, and any environmentally-related volunteer work.

Research and Volunteering

1. Integrative Biology Research Position
Researcher in the Department of Integrative Biology seeks motivated undergraduates interested in contributing to research at the University of Texas.

Project Description: In many animals males provide a "nuptial gift" to females before or after copulation, which is presumed to increase the number and quality of offspring. Paradoxically, females in these same species often mate with many males, resulting in sperm competition for the eggs and mixed paternity of the broods. So why do males contribute to offspring that... aren’t theirs, and are they able to use environmental cues to estimate the risk of sperm competition and adjust their reproductive investment accordingly? This project will answer these questions using a variety of experimental manipulations.

Duties: Enumerating nuptial gift size, sperm number, sperm viability, and sperm length using microscopy. Maintaining the cricket colony. Keeping records of project progress and data. Maintaining the nest and ensuring that the crickets are healthy.

2. The Undergraduate Research Awards
Applications are due June 2nd

The University Honors Center is pleased to share The Undergraduate Awards, an opportunity for undergraduate students to have their best research essays or special projects recognized and published as part of a program celebrating top students from around the world. We encourage you to share this information with interested students and faculty in your department.

The Undergraduate Awards recognize the world’s top undergraduate research projects from a variety of academic disciplines spanning the humanities, sciences, and visual arts. Open to final and penultimate year undergraduates, students are invited to submit research essays or special projects completed as part of their coursework that have received a grade of A and present fresh ideas and new arguments. Winning students will have their work published in the Undergraduate Awards Journal and be invited to attend the UA Summit—a 3 day conference in Dublin, Ireland.

A sample announcement for your website or newsletter is attached, as well as template for announcement to departmental faculty members.

Students should visit www.utexas.edu/ugs/uhc/awards/undergraduate.

3. KBS REU
Applications are due February 15th

The KBS REU program provides Free Room & Board, up to $400 in travel expenses, up to $500 in research funds, and a $4,500 stipend. The program runs 10-weeks from late May to early August. Applicants must be currently enrolled as a full time student. We especially welcome applications from students from underrepresented groups in the sciences and first generation college students.

Research projects for Summer 2014 include:

- Plant Eco-physiology
- Restoration ecology
- Mating system evolution
- Using soil tests to survey farmer attitudes about soil health
- Effects of genetic diversity on plants and insects
- Algal adaptation to temperature and nutrients
- The role of mutualisms in plant adaptation
