This is an example of how to complete prerequisite courses for the Texas Occupational Therapy programs.

Six semesters, regardless of the student's age or year in college, are generally required to complete the pre-occupational therapy courses and extra-curricular activities.

Many students finish prerequisites in Year 4 or later and have a bridge year or years during which they continue to prepare for and apply to professional schools.

Use this as a guide. Your personal time line may differ. Consult your academic advisor for help incorporating these courses into your degree plan.

Some schools require completion of prerequisites by the time of application or application deadline.
