Texas offers many accredited programs where one can earn a Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree.

Texas Physical Therapy Programs (Public)
- Angelo State University, Dept. of Nursing and Rehabilitation Sciences, Physical Therapy Program (San Angelo)
- Texas State University, Department of Physical Therapy (San Marcos)
- Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Doctor of Physical Therapy Program (Lubbock)
- Texas Woman's University, School of Physical Therapy (Dallas and Houston)
- University of North Texas Health Science Center, Department of Physical Therapy (Dallas)
- The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, Department of Physical Therapy
- University of Texas at El Paso, Doctor of Physical Therapy Program
- University of Texas Medical Branch, Department of Physical Therapy (Galveston)
- University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, Department of Physical Therapy (Dallas)

Texas Physical Therapy Programs (Private)
- Hardin-Simmons University, Department of Physical Therapy (Abilene)
- University of the Incarnate Word, School of Physical Therapy (San Antonio)
- University of St. Augustine for Health Sciences, Doctor of Physical Therapy Program (Austin)

Developing – Not Accredited Texas Physical Therapy Programs (Private)
- University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, Physical Therapy Program (Belton) – Candidate for Accreditation

Learn more about their accreditation status here. http://www.capteonline.org/Programs/Developing/PT/

Accreditation Status
To research the accreditation status of Physical Therapy programs see the American Physical Therapy Association Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE) website.